THE TEAHOUSE STORY

When the idea of opening the Gallery started formulating in my mind back in 2005, I always knew that a Teahouse would be an integral part of the Gallery. I imagined a space where we could recreate the salons I'd seen in China, where artists and their friends hung out, chatting, swapping stories and discussing art. I envisioned a Teahouse full of lively chatter, where you might talk to your neighbouring table, exchange ideas and start new friendships. I do honestly believe that art starts conversations, so let's talk.
